Garland—Mr. and Mrs. James Graham attended the funeral of a nephew held at West Hickory this week. The young man was one of the soldiers killed at Nashville, Tenn., when the truck in which they were riding crashed through a bridge. The funeral was largely attended by many relatives and friends. The young man was married and leaves a young child and his wife. When Mrs. Graham reached home she received word of the death of a sister.

The Garland factory is now running nights as well as days. Several women are employed.

necessitated eight stitches to close the wound.

There were no services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, due to the fact that the interior of the building is being redecorated.

Frederick Carlson is spending the month of June with his mother at Youngsville. Fred is taking a graduate course in the Wharton School of Finance in Philadelphia and expects to get his degree by the first of the year.

The Price house that was recently vacated by the Hay family, is again rented.

Laura Simmons is back in her home in Garland, having spent the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla. Some of the young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn recently, honoring Leonard Eastman's birthday.

Frances Darling is making her home now with Mr. and Mrs. Shreve of the Kwalley chick farm. Alice Gray, who graduated from the Youngsville high school this spring, has secured employment in the office of the Garland factory.

Joseph LeTrent, 25, 524 West 18th street, Erie, Pa., was the subject of a check up with the local police by the Erie police over the weekend. LeTrent has been questioned by the Erie police in the death of Michael Buoniconti, 52 of Erie. Buoniconti died Thursday morning and it was feared for a time that he might have met death as the result of an altercation with LeTrent on May 2nd. At that time he alleged LeTrent had struck him and a warrant was issued for LeTrent's arrest but Buoniconti did not appear and the charge was dismissed. LeTrent has been released after questioning and after he had signed a statement relative to his argument with Buoniconti.

SAVE FOOD

Your Gas Refrigerator can help you make the most of your ration allowance

1. KEEP PERISHABLES COLD

Vitamins and other nutritive elements in most food are lost when not protected from air and warmth. By storing foods in your Gas Refrigerator between the time they are bought and prepared for serving, you are sure to retain their full healthful value.

2. STORE FOODS CAREFULLY

To avoid waste, keep meats in your Gas Refrigerator either uncovered or lightly covered with wax paper. Wash green vegetables and remove wilted leaves before placing in vegetable fresheners. Bring warm foods to room temperature before storing.

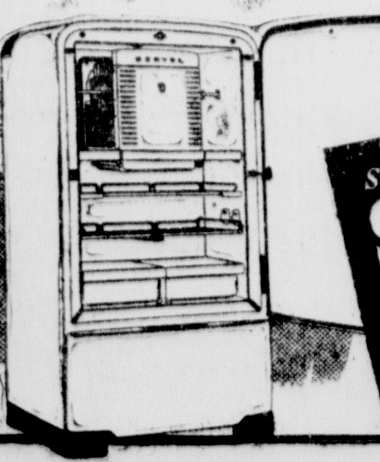

3. SAVE VEGETABLE JUICES

The juices left after cooking carrots, spinach, celery, onions, etc., are rich in health-building minerals and vitamins. Save this liquid by straining and keeping safe and cool in your Gas Refrigerator. Serve as vegetable cocktail, or use for creamed soups or sauces.

4. USE LEFTOVERS FOR NEW DISHES

Don't throw away food left over from meals. Transfer it to clean, covered containers and store in your Gas Refrigerator until ready to use. Many tasty dishes can be prepared from leftovers—meat loaf, casseroles, sandwich fillings, jellied salads.

RAIDING THE RUHR

Heart of Hitler's western industrial area is this Ruhr-Rhine region—target of the heaviest allied raids of the war. Thousands of tons of blockbusters have fallen on the bombed cities shown on map as the RAF blasts area from which comes much of the steel, chemicals, synthetic oil and munitions for the German war machine.

GRANGE NEWS

WARREN GRANGE
The next regular meeting of Warren Grange No. 1025 will be held Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the IOOF hall, with officers assembling at 7:30. Members are reminded that the National Grange master has advised local units that Grangers are permitted to drive their cars to and from meetings because of the nature of the Grange work, which is helping the war effort to a very great extent. He adds, however, that the Office of Price Administration suggests this permission should not be used as an excuse for purely social activities in the Granges.

Before inserting a new fuse in a car as a substitute for one that has burned out, it is a good idea to discover the reason for the failure of the dead one.

"You'd better speak to Junior—he's writing a novel in which the hero kills a dozen guards and escapes from five prisons, including Alcatraz!"

To make your rug look its best . . . and wear longer . . .

Here's what to do: Look your rug over with these 5 questions in mind:

1. Does it deserve to be shampoo-cleaned?
2. Are there any places in it that ought to be repaired, such as worn-out or worn-down spots, cuts, burns?
3. Would rebinding or refringing improve its looks and protect it from wearing out gradually?
4. Does it need to be re-sized to make it lay straight and flat—to actually make it wear three times as long?
5. Would demoting or mothproofing not be an excellent insurance against moths and their ravages?

Whether your rug is an Axminster, a Wilton, a Broadloom or an Oriental, you will do well to take good care of it.

The Rug and Carpet service department we maintain here in connection with our Floor-Covering department is fully equipped to help you get the most out of your rugs. For cleaning, repairing, rebinding, refringing, resizing, demoting or mothproofing, be free to call us up—our telephone number is 157.

Prowlers and Drunks Keep Police Busy Over Weekend

Prowlers and drunks gave the police their chief excitement over the weekend. Two prowlers were reported from Hickory street and when the folk there accosted the young fellows they ran. A good description was given to the police and soon two young fellows were picked up. They gave their names as Lyle Stanton, 19, 607 Fourth avenue, and William Gillette, 21, 614 Fourth avenue. They had left their bicycles when they ran. A check was made on the boys and they were given a severe reprimand and allowed to depart with a stern warning. Other calls of prowlers gave the police trips in the cruiser car but search did not locate any of the men reported. At one home a purse was taken while the members of the family and guests were enjoying a snack in the kitchen. The purse was later found on the street. It contained a small sum of money and a compact. Warning is given by the police to keep screen doors hooked during the warm summer evenings. Drunks seemingly were just scattered over the village in a sort of careless way. One had a car drive and his wife called the cops to drive her and her spouse home—ward as the spouse was in no shape to handle the helm. The cops obliged. One hotel and couple of restaurants reported their patrons had become quarrelsome but when the police arrived they were found to have faded into thin but odorous air.

Two cases of heart attacks came under the eye of the cops. One man from Sheffield was aided until his daughter arrived to take him home and in another case the daughter of the victim was found in a theatre and rushed home.

Howling dogs that had howled their way into the city pound tried to howl their way out and the neighbors near the pound entered long and loud protests. The police visited the pound and shushed the puppies.

And as usual boys, small and noisy, caused the police some trouble. But the boys hid away to trundle beds and Red Rover stories when the police got on the job.

Fire Destroys Kagle Home on East Fifth Ave.

Fire starting presumably from spontaneous combustion among rags and materials left by painters engaged in redecorating the home destroyed the residence of Alfred Kagle, East Fifth avenue extension Saturday night. The flames spread so rapidly that members of the family were unable to reach their telephone to call the fire department and a call had to be sent in by a neighbor. The emergency truck from the Central station responded.

There was no water available at the scene of the fire as the well was partially under the blazing home. Firemen worked with the water in the booster tank of the emergency truck and neighbors formed a bucket brigade and with tubs, milk cans, etc., kept the tank filled while the firemen worked on the fire. The home was a large frame structure and it burned like tinder being destroyed with all of its contents. There was some insurance but it is not expected to nearly cover the loss.

A two car garage was located within 25 feet of the home and a large chicken coop and barn were also close by. The heat from the fire was terrific and the firemen worked as close as possible being endangered by the crashing of the chimney. David Beaty used his pickup truck and hauled water aiding greatly in the work. The out buildings were all saved. The firemen were on the job for over three hours.

The barn owned by Mr. Kagle was destroyed by fire about 10 years ago.

During the fire Mr. Kagle sustained some severe burns about the face and head and on his hands and arms. He was given first aid by the firemen and his burns were dressed.

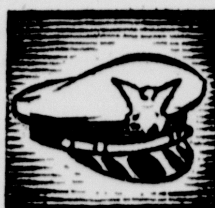

Sunday the emergency truck was called to Maple street where smoke from a residence was investigated. There was no fire.

Pittsfield Boy Is Killed In Farm Accident

Services in memory of John Orbanick, aged 15, son of Charles Orbanick, of Pittsfield township, who received fatal injuries in a runaway accident Friday afternoon about three o'clock while helping his father and an uncle load a hay wagon, will be held from St. Luke's church at Irvine at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Interment will follow in St. Joseph's cemetery in this city.

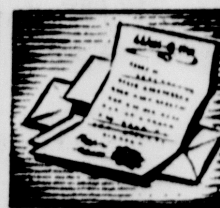

According to information secured during an investigation by the coroner's office, John was attempting to hold the high-spirited team by the reins in front of the wagon while his father and uncle were loading the hay. For some reason the horses bolted and started down the road, with the terrified boy swinging in front of them. After they had run about 150 yards he evidently was thrown to the side of the road and it was apparent that the right wheels ran over his body.

Badly injured the lad was carried to the Joe Kwoitski home, on the farm where the accident occurred. Failing in efforts to summon a physician a call was made to Warren for an ambulance.

LOSER TAKE ALL

By Adelaide Hazeltine

Chapter 12

ANN was not a nurse but she had taken the Red Cross course in home nursing and she knew a little about the flu. So in an hour she was on her way to the Mason trailer.

She walked from Terrance House the three blocks to the hill that led to the bridge across the river.

The street went up a slight incline to the level above but the trailer camp was on a gentle slope between the street and the bank of the Platte. Here large shade trees and rich grass made an ideal site for the war workers' homes. Ideal unless the river had one of its infrequent and yet treacherous floods. It looked innocuous, but Ann had once seen it change from a quiet stream to a roaring torrent in an hour.

The Mason trailer was in the middle of the group of thirty or forty others. She found it and Mr. Mason waiting for her.

"Dr. Miller said he'd come when he could," Mr. Mason told her. "He's the plant doctor."

"All right. But in the meantime I'd like to get a few instructions from him. Suppose you stay here a few minutes longer while I go back to the first store and phone him."

She found Dr. Miller kind and helpful. He told her a few simple things to do to reduce Mrs. Mason's fever, to make her more comfortable and advised Ann to get a thermometer to make regular checks on the woman's temperature.

"YOU go right back to your work," she urged Mr. Mason when she returned to the trailer. "I'll look after everything."

She had seen trailers displayed at auto shows and she had glimpsed the luxurious compactness of their gleaming woodwork and polished chrome. But she had never supposed one could be as barren as the Masons'. It had none of the built-in conveniences and the walls weren't even sealed on the inside. It was, as Mrs. Mason tried to explain, a little more than a shelter on wheels.

But it was a shelter in lieu of a house which Radville didn't have.

There was a small table hinged to the wall and Ann set it for the meal. Everything was ready at 6:30. But Mr. Mason didn't come home until after 7.

"Had to check some of the men out," he explained. "That makes me late most of the time."

Ann said, "You're a foreman?"

"Well I help the foreman," he replied.

She took her patient's temperature, prepared to leave for a few hours.

"I'll go home for some rest now," she told Mr. Mason. "But I'll be back at 12. That'll give you time to get some sleep."

"I don't know how to go about thanking you."

"You don't have to thank me. You do your work at the defense plant and I take care of your family. That's one way for me to do my part."

SHE was too tired to go to the dining room for her own dinner and so asked for a tray to be sent to her room. Then she threw herself on the bed and, exhausted, slept a dreamless sleep until 11:30.

She slipped quickly into a fresh cotton dress (thank goodness she had brought a couple of last summer's with her), put on her Tuxedo coat with the gold lining and made her way through the hall to the front of the house.

She considered calling a cab, decided against it. It was only a ten minute walk and there were street lights both ways.

The big trees on the lawn made dark splotches on the grass. Instinctively Ann skirted their shadows and hurried on.

The street lights cast a faint circle of yellow about their base. She ran from one to the other all the way to the next.

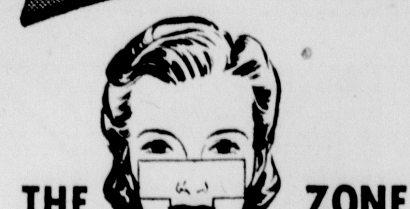

She was going down the hill to the bridge when she first became aware of the figure that moved along behind her. She told herself it was only an illusion, a product of her imagination. But when she reached the bridge and her heel clicked on the boards, the figure's steps clicked, too. Heavier, faster.

She glanced around, saw to her terror that there was a man only a few yards away and he was gaining on her.

He was following her all right. What was more he would overtake her on the bridge.

FARM NEWS

FLEA BEETLES
Flea beetles are very small jumping insects about the size of the head of a common pin. Generally they are black in color. The beetles eat numerous very small holes in the leaves. Sometimes the leaves are so badly injured that they turn brown. Often the leaves wither as a result of the attacks. In any case, the plants are severely weakened by the feeding.

Cabbage, tomato, potato, pepper, and many other plants are attacked by the beetles, according to County Agent O. C. Trutt. The damage is so severe that young cabbage, cauliflower, tomato, potato, and other plants should be protected from them.

In gardens the plants should be dusted with rotenone dust as soon as they are set in the garden. Do not wait until the next day. By that time the tomatoes or other plants may be ruined.

Potatoes are protected by using calcium arsenate in bordeaux mixture. Where copper sulphate-line sprays (bordeaux mixture) are being used they often give a fair amount of protection from the beetles.

FINE SELECTION
(Oil City Derrick)
The diocese of Erie of the Episcopal Church is to be congratulated upon its choice of a new bishop. Deputies to the convention, held in Oil City, exhibited a singleness of purpose to select for the post vacated by the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward "a godly and well-learned man" to lead the flock to continued spiritual achievement.

In the bishop-elect, the Rev. Edward Pinkney Wroth of Warren, the deputies have made a wise choice. Inasmuch as the diocese abounds in capable clergymen and the names of several distinguished churchmen from other sections of the country were presented, the convention faced a difficult task, which was completed with earnestness and dignity. Naturally, different parishes of the diocese supported "favorite sons" in a spirit of friendly rivalry, but the voting ended in harmony with a general recognition of the worth of the successful candidate.

Rev. Mr. Wroth, as rector of Trinity Memorial church at Warren for the last 13 years, has won a host of friends, not only in his immediate community, but throughout the diocese, and he has made an enviable record as a leader in both religious and civic affairs. A frequent visitor in Oil City, the prelate-elect has impressed those with whom he has come in contact with his ability and sincerity. Called upon to fill various diocesan posts, he has labored faithfully and well. He has the good health and vigor essential for the exacting burdens which he will assume.

The diocese is fortunate that its new bishop is a man familiar with its problems and personalities. His successful administration of a prosperous parish and the love and esteem in which he is held by the people of Warren augur well for the future of Rev. Mr. Wroth in the guidance of a larger ecclesiastical domain. Not only communicants of the Episcopal faith but persons of the community at large in the diocese extend their felicitations to the bishop-elect and wish him many years of happiness in the field of greater responsibilities and of greater opportunities for service to his fellow men. Those who know him have every confidence in the welfare of the diocese in the years to come.

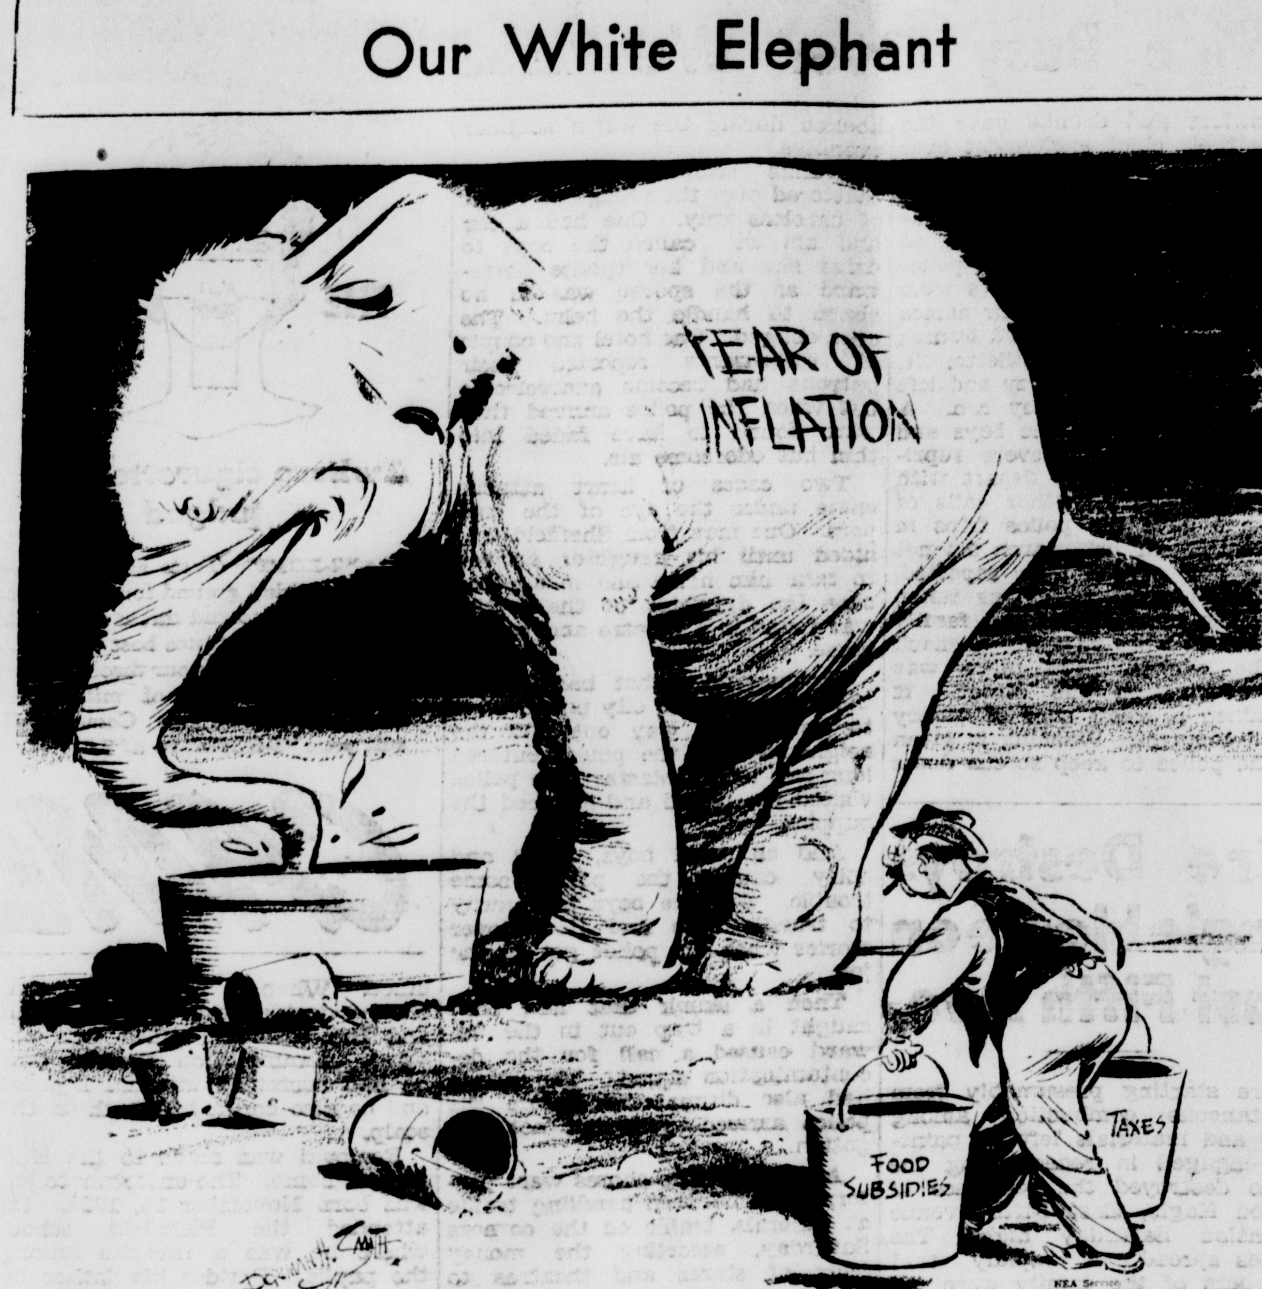

OVERSUBSCRIBED
Final returns on the Red Cross war drive last March are encouraging. The goal was $125,000,000. The campaign was waged in the midst of the income tax season, at a moment when the great American public was digging deeper, to finance the war, than it ever had dug before. Yet the goal was overshot by $18,000,000.

This would seem to justify completely the decision to keep the Red Cross drive separate from other war funds; to reflect great credit upon the responsiveness of the American people; and to be a fine omen for the National War Fund's attempt to raise $250,000,000 next fall.

ICKES CAPITULATES TO ICKES
Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has won a soul-trying victory over Secretary Harold L. Ickes of the Department of Interior. As Publicist Harold L. Ickes well says, commenting upon the situation, "it is news of the same type as 'man bites dog.'"
Responding patriotically to the request of Petroleum Administrator Ickes, Secretary Ickes is asking the public to stay away from the national parks to save gasoline and tires. And Publicist Ickes points out that Solid Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes also concurs, because train travel would use up coal.

SPY THRILLER
We hope that Congress does release the sealed records of that 10-year-old investigation into Japanese espionage and preparations for invasion. It was squelched, at the time, so as not to hurt Tokyo's feelings. It ought to make thrilling reading now.
When the facts are available we can judge what, if anything, was done to counteract the conditions that were revealed. It is to be assumed that the G-men could have used the information.

A pleasing bit of news was received today when announcement was made that the controversy which had disrupted two shifts at the National Forge & Ordnance Co. plant at Irvine for two days, is being adjusted satisfactorily and the men have returned to work. It is to the credit of all concerned that such satisfactory agreement was reached.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — If you have never heard of the Brotherhood of Sensible Men, this may be your last chance. Great meetings often die aborning. On the other hand, it could really develop into a sartorial revolution.
As far as I can find out, the idea started with Charlie Planck, at Civil Aeronautics. Washington summers are nothing new to Charlie. Neither is hard work. Nor has he ever been a nonconformist in the matter of male attire. Putting them all together, he got an idea.
"Beginning now," he said, "let's start the B. S. M.—an organized revolt, en masse, to throw off the shackles of collar, tie and coats. Let's plant the idea in high places and low. Let's start with cabinet members and get them to promise to wear sports shirts (collarless and tieless) and slacks throughout the hot, sultry days of this Washington summer."
PLANCK felt that there would be no trouble at all getting Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes into the fold. It was suggested that if enough opposition could be raised to the idea, Ickes undoubtedly would want to lead the sartorial emancipation movement.
Secretary of Agriculture Wickard is almost a certain charter member. He might even make the kick-off campaign speech, telling the nation how much more comfortable are "farm clothes" than the toga of a cabinet member. Secretary of Labor Perkins is, as Planck points out, already "sartorially emancipated," as are all Uncle Sam's nieces.
By common consent, there will be no proselytizing in the Department of State. While Secretary Hull is not unfamiliar with comfortable attire, protocol would probably forbid his greeting distinguished visitors in anything less than regulation matching coat and breeches. As for Under-Secretary Sumner Welles—well, you might as well ask Tolcanini to conduct an all-Brahms concert at Carnegie Hall in a bathing suit.

VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE probably would be in the front rank of the emancipated. I'm sure that the idea of going right from the tennis courts to his chair as president of the Senate, without loss of the time it takes to dress, would make a big hit with the athletic V-P.
And the President might almost be said to be the vanguard of the movement. Allergic as he is to air conditioning, Mr. Roosevelt has been in shirtsleeves almost ever since he came to Washington. Since the war started, there has been very little time that he hasn't had his sleeves rolled up.
Anyway, the B. S. M. is off to a great start and the organizers already are talking in terms of 100,000 tieless, coatless, besleeved males here by July 1. It could happen.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS
Sick Bay
In this war our wounded fighting men have a greater chance for recovery than in any previous conflict because of the medical aids and services that have been developed by the War and Navy Departments.
One of these aids is the Hospital Transport Plane service that has been bringing our wounded back from Africa.
Your increased and continued purchase of War Bonds is required to help the Treasury Department finance this hospital transport service.

Information About "Pay-as-you-go-Tax"

Q. Is the "withholding tax" a new tax or an additional tax?
A. Neither. It is a new "pay-as-you-go" method of collecting the Federal Income and Victory Tax. The amount withheld goes toward paying your regular income tax, including the Victory tax.

Q. Why is it called a withholding tax?
A. Because it is deducted and withheld by the employer from the wages paid to his employees.

Q. Is this the "pay-as-you-go" tax we've been hearing so much about?
A. Yes.

Q. Does this include my Victory tax payment, or is that extra?
A. The amount withheld includes the Victory tax.

Q. Does it include Employment Taxes, formerly called Social Security Taxes?
A. The amount withheld does not include Social Security Taxes.

Q. When does it start?
A. The new "Withholding Tax" takes effect on July 1, 1943, and is applicable to all wages paid on or after that date except for wages paid for payroll periods commencing before that date.

Q. Does the withholding mean that twenty percent of pay check will be taken out each pay day?
A. No. Exemptions bring the amount considerably lower, even for the single person with no dependents. For instance, in the case of a married man with two dependents drawing $50 per week, the weekly percentage of withholding amounts to less than 6 percent. In other words this man pays approximately $2.50 per week.

Q. Last March I paid one quarter of the income tax levied against 1942 income, $15.80. What happens to that?
A. The first quarter of the income tax levied for 1942 and paid in March 1943 will be treated as part payment of income tax for 1943.

Q. How about the June 15th installment?
A. The June 15th installment will also be treated as part payment of the 1943 tax.

Q. How can I maintain my regular purchase of War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan and at the same time pay out the additional withholding tax?
A. It should be as easy under the withholding tax system as at present, since this is not an additional tax but merely an installment or pay-as-you-go method of paying your regular annual income tax.

Struthers - Wells and Elks Victims of Irvine's Big Bats In Triple Weekend Action

Friday night on Russell Field the National Forge started a weekend splurge on the teams of the local league and wound up yesterday with three games under their belts and 34 runs to their credit in the offing.

Fans of Warren waited two long weeks for the tilt between the Elks and the National Forge of Irvine, and the wait tended to strain the nerves of the up and coming nine from the Warren Lodge of Elks to the extent of falling to the Irvine crew by a score of 19 to 1.

Starting out with that pep and stamina that indicates a team of high calibre, the Elks retired the Forge slugging "murderer's row" in order, but had their first three hitters facing Freddie Gagliardi of the defense team go down in order too.

Then something seemed to freeze up the entire Elks outfit in the second inning and they booted easy flies and grounders, allowing runners to fairly pour across the plate.

In that massacre, which is the name for it, the same kind of a feeling began to reek through the stands as the fans started to tense up and instead of wishing them luck and watching those fighting youngsters give everything they had and still come up fighting in the last inning.

Proving some of the assertions of meation, the number of Forge earned runs was less than half of their total, or 8, while the rest were caused by miscues all through the Elks lineup.

Stiggy Petrowski had a perfect day at bat for the Forge, coming home on furlough to take part in all three of the weekend tilts by collecting three hits and a walk, while Bob Peterson led the Elks with two bingles.

After taking a severe drubbing from the National Forge on Friday, the Elks had a slight comeback yesterday and even though they wound up on the short end of a 7 to 1 count, they showed definite possibilities of becoming the surprise team of the year after they brush off the nervousness which was so evident in both of their week-end games.

Still only collecting four hits on Sunday, they looked better in defense and pulled a couple of beautiful plays to make up for early errors.

Meantime, the Forge continues undefeated with their big bats answering, all threats to their present domination of the league.

Struthers-Wells fell victim to a barrage of 14 hits yesterday when the National Forge started clipping the ball at the fastest pace this year.

The local defense crew had trouble with their hitting in this fourth match with the Forge in the same way, let up on the defenses with four errors against them.

The National Forge started out strong in the first inning, scoring three runs at the gun on successive hits by Creola, Petrowski and Joe Massa, followed by three errors to give the Forge a sizeable lead at the beginning.

From there on it was little trouble for the Forgers as they scored once in the 3rd, twice in the 5th and 6th and 1 in the seventh while Struthers only managed to slap out two hits along the route, getting not one man on third.

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH—BOB JOHNSON

Trying to write up that Elks-Forge encounter on Russell Field Friday night probably is just about as hard as it would be for Emily Post to figure out a box score at a cricket game.

After trouncing Struthers-Wells in their first league affair, the Elks looked plenty good to at least wind up somewhere near the Forge score when the thing was over with, but in that game there was enough baseball to be seen to cause all the fans at the game to get into round table discussions over it.

Several long-lived devotees of the bleachers opined that the youngsters would freeze up when they ran up against the Irvine crew, but the kids didn't share that opinion on first scheduling the contest.

Then there was a two-week holdover because of weather and that confidence so badly needed Friday night seemed to wear off.

Of the some 130 fans who turned out to see it happen, we'd be willing to bet that not one was through and through disgusted when they lost 19 to 1. . . . Just because of the stuff they still showed when it was hopeless.

You'd expect to see an outfit at a handicap like that fold up and put the bats away before the fifth inning, yet they still were pepping it up in the last session. That takes stomach matter. . . . and they showed even more yesterday when they fell 8 to 1.

They came out yesterday with the same tense feeling they held on Friday, but this time not because of the Forge, but because of what they thought the fans were thinking. . . . and it didn't take them long to erase the thought from everybody's cranium. . . . When they started right out snaring impossible flies and pulling a double play that looked like it was born in New York.

They're gaining that confidence now. . . . and we'd be willing to stake out now that in another two weeks, providing the army delays some of its greeting cards, they'll play the National Forge on even terms. . . . and here's one who says they deserve plenty of credit for stepping into the fast stuff ahead of time and giving out with the fast and pepped up ball they do. . . . Any takers?

Betty Ann Braunschweiger Becomes Bride Of David C. Levine in Lutheran Ceremonial

White summer flowers were used in pretty altar decorations at First Lutheran church Saturday afternoon, when, at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. H. A. Rinard performed the ceremony which united in marriage Betty Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Braunschweiger, 102 Cayuga avenue, and David C., son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Levine, 6 Schanz street. Mrs. Glenn Engstrom prefaced the ceremony with a 15-minute organ recital.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white, with full bodice and full skirt of mousseline de soie, fingertip veil of illusion held with orange blossom tiara, and her only jewelry was the bridegroom's gift of a double strand of pearls. Her colonial bouquet was of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, as matron of honor, wore blue organza and lace and matching Juliet cap of blue net. Similarly, Miss Edna Swanson, bridesmaid, was gowned in pink organza and each carried a colonial bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. Braunschweiger chose white accessories and Mrs. Levine wore black with aqua, each having a pink rose corsage.

Ralph Sandberg was Mr. Levine's best man and ushers were Hadsal Wright, Raymond Ledebur, Mr. Knowlton and Frederick Wendelboe.

A reception followed at the YWCA for the immediate relatives and bridal party, these guests including Mrs. Otto Gallmann and Miss Alice Braunschweiger, Wells-ville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John Uebloch, North Collins, N. Y.; Mrs. Gus Levine, Mrs. Fred Levine, Mrs. John Sage, Tidouste, Mr. and Mrs. William Helfrich, Titusville; Miss Jean Levine, Cambridge Springs; Miss Texie Jones, Franklin; Mont Weckerly, DuBois. Appointments centered about white summer flowers and a tiered wedding cake.

The couple expect to return Wednesday from a midwestern wedding trip and will reside at 311 Pennsylvania avenue, east.
